This is the first of many periodic updates from World Rivers Day Chair and founder, Mark Angelo, in the lead-up to World Rivers Day 2025, set for Sunday, September 28 - our 20th anniversary.

Greetings River Advocates,

We wanted to let you know that arrangements are already starting to develop for World Rivers Day 2025, set for Sunday, September 28 (as always, falling on the fourth Sunday in September). This will be our 20th anniversary - and as the world's largest celebration of rivers and the many communities and lifeforms they sustain, we wanted to reach out to you well in advance. Please let us know of your plans!

The celebrations and events taking place will be incredibly diverse and are limited only by our imagination. On one hand, we will see many of our traditional physical events, such as stream clean-ups, river-side planting and restoration efforts, biological inventories, educational tours, school projects, and community riverside celebrations. In addition, there will also be many events of a digital nature including online art festivals, the launching of new campaigns, the celebration of milestones, online essays and poems, digital photo galleries, new research projects, online river trivia events, river-related song posts, live-stream panels, and virtual film initiatives such as Global Environmental Justice documentary series, that includes many films about rivers.

We're hoping that river advocates from around the globe will be involved as part of this year's World Rivers Day Celebration, which commenced in 2005 and is now one of the planet's largest environmental events. Also, this year marks the 45th anniversary of BC Rivers Day, which eventually evolved into World Rivers Day.

Many exciting events are already in the planning stages - From across Canada (ranging from the Pacific Salmon Foundation's Salmon Spotting campaign - to the BC Rivers Day efforts of the Outdoor Recreation Council - to the Guichon Creek Day at the BC Institute of Technology) - to efforts across Europe and Great Britain (from the major cleanup of the Tiber River in Rome by Più Blu - to the continent-wide celebrations organized by Uniworld river cruises - to the massive celebration of the Thames in London) - to Africa and the planned clean-up of the Lingadzi River in Lilongwe, Malawi by the Hope Givers Foundation among many other events across the continent - to the major festivities planned in Bangladesh and India - to the major efforts of river stewards and Riverkeepers from coast to coast across the United States - and from Taiwan, Japan, and China - to Central and South America - to the Caribbean including the great leadership efforts of Dominica, the nature island. The list will go on and on in the months ahead.

Themes - World Rivers Day focuses on "the many natural, cultural, and recreational values of rivers and streams in our communities". In addition, many will be promoting several sub-themes including the incredibly important link between rivers and oceans, the need to restore rivers that have been damaged in the past, the importance of engaging youth with local rivers, the "rights of rivers", and issues around river connectivity to ensure adequate fish passage, which is in line with the good work of our friends at World Fish Migration Day which will next occur in 2026. All of these are important sub-themes to profile.

So please, let us know of your plans! The importance of clean fresh water has never been more important and World Rivers Day is a timely opportunity for literally millions of people around the world to come together to celebrate the importance of healthy vibrant waterways!

We are excited to again be working with the Pacific Salmon Foundation as a gold sponsor. They are a widely respected organization dedicated to the conservation and restoration of wild Pacific salmon and the organizer of global Wild Salmon Day set for June 1.

Also, a gold sponsor is the Sitka Foundation, a wonderful organization that catalyzes the protection of the environment and the promotion of biodiversity.

Another key sponsor is the Real Estate Foundation of BC which has provided valued support over the last several years.

We also remain thankful to the International River Foundation, based in Brisbane, along with our other valued supporters such as United Nations University, International Network on Water, Environment and Health, United Nations Water Action Decade, Outdoor Recreation Council of BC, River-cleanup.org, and Hope Mountain Centre for Outdoor Learning.

Visit our website at www.worldriversday.com to find out more about World Rivers Day, and please let us know about any activities you may organize. We can help with your promotions via our website, as well as with e-mails like this one. Last year, river enthusiasts from around the world came together to make World Rivers Day a great success, with millions of people participating in thousands of events in over 100 countries. World Rivers Day also has its roots in the incredible success of BC Rivers Day in British Columbia, Canada, which has been underway since 1980.

Promoting River Stewardship

World Rivers Day is a celebration of the world's waterways. It highlights the many values of rivers and strives to increase public awareness while also encouraging the improved stewardship of rivers around the world. Rivers in every country face an array of threats, and only our active involvement will ensure their health in the years ahead.

Join the Celebration!

World Rivers Day organizers encourage all of you to come out and participate. In particular, consider starting a Rivers Day event of your own, which might range from a stream cleanup to a community riverside celebration to an online forum. If you create an event, be sure to tell us about it! We'll keep you posted in the months ahead as new Rivers Day activities are announced.

International Partners

World Rivers Day is intended to complement the broader efforts of the United Nations water-related programs, ranging from the UN's initial Water for Life Decade to their current Water Action Decade initiative. We also look forward to continuing to work with groups such as the United Nations University and the International Network on Water, Environment and Health which were very supportive in launching World Rivers Day back in 2005.

Special thanks to our World Rivers Day partners and sponsors:

Pacific Salmon Foundation - gold sponsor

Sitka Foundation - gold sponsor

Real Estate Foundation of British Columbia

International River Foundation

United Nations University

International Network on Water, Environment and Health

Outdoor Recreation Council of BC (coordinator of BC Rivers Day)

Hope Mountain Centre for Outdoor Learning
