Dear River Advocates,

As a follow-up to a very successful World Rivers Day this year, many of you have asked for an update on the new best-selling book, River Magic: Tales from a Life on 1000 Rivers. Written in concert with our 20th anniversary and published by Hancock House, Mark Angelo's book has been hailed for its conservation themes while also successfully introducing a new and broader audience to the allure of rivers and the need to better care for them.

In line with its effort to maximize accessibility, a new audiobook version, personally narrated by Mark, has just been released. The audiobook, available through Audible, Google Play, Spotify Premium, among others, includes a special postscript bonus story, Tiger of the Charan Ganga. The book, with many beautiful photos, is also available in print and eBook formats. For more information, contact info@hancockhouse.com

Thanks again for all your great efforts on behalf of rivers! We already look forward to World Rivers Day 2026 set for September 27.

Best wishes,
Tunde Murphy
